MILITARY WOMEN'S HEALTH Research Interest Group

ABOUT

MWHRIG members pave the way to evidence-based decision-making, programs, and policies that support the well-being and health of all females serving in the military.

This community:

- Is a resource to the Defense Health Agency (DHA) and Military Healthcare System (MHS) for scholarly activities to support the health of military women and LGBTQ females.
- Mentors nurses in research and implementation science so they can develop Evidence-Based Practice (EBP) projects and research proposals, conduct all phases of scholarly projects, and disseminate resulting knowledge.
- Serves as subject matter experts responsive to military leadership, and builds scientific evidence to advance sex and gender health, wellness, and readiness outcomes and evidence-based decision making.
- Fosters collaboration and communication across interprofessional organizations, TSNRP RIGs, and federal agency partners.
